“A man was found to plan the burning of the temple of Ephesian Diana so that through the destruction of this most beautiful building his name might be spread through the whole world.”
(Valerius Maximus, Factorum et Dictorum Memorabilium)

2

“... one who is worthy neither of mention nor remembrance, and is never to be named ... no one should ever mention the name of the man who had burned the temple of Diana at Ephesus.”
(Aulus Gellius, Attic Nights)

3

“... but when Herostratus set fire to [the temple of Diana], the citizens constructed one more magnificent.”
(The Geography of Strabo)
